

Food for Thoughtfulness

Pasco County Schools is always looking for a way to help the community. Amid uncertainty in the COVID-19 pandemic, the Districts' Food and Nutrition Services has stepped up to provide food in communities that need it most. Employees from across 25 Pasco County schools are handing out healthy meals to students and their families. These meals accommodate five days' worth of breakfast and lunch. The Afterschool Enrichment Program has truly shown its dedication in helping the kids they work alongside each day.

"The smiles on their faces were priceless. It was such a rewarding experience for me."

-Valerie Chausse

A great takeaway from this experience is realizing that we have some special employees across the county. Being able to work with staff from other schools and other departments has shown that, we are really dedicated to the success of our students.

Experiences from the Heart

Al Brown, the Site Manager for Oakstead and Rushe Middle School, has been helping for multiple weeks at both Richey and Sunray Elementary. Brown's experience has given him a lot personally and professionally. "I have really enjoyed being able to help serve the students in our county. I think that the effort of Pasco County Schools to continue to feed the children is to be commended. The families drive through the line and they are holding up signs that say, "Thank you!" I have seen a few students and parents use sign language to sign to us the words "Thank you." It shows that these families are appreciative of the food and that makes it all worthwhile for me."

Thank you to all who helped!
